Practical Ideas and Strategies

In this outstanding, ALL NEW for 2023 seminar, CATHY ANDRONIK will share the best, new books for young adults, all just recently published in the past twelve months. Keeping up with the thousands of young adult books published each year need not be a daunting task! Cathy has done the hard work for you, reading hundreds of new YA books and distilling them down to the very best of the best. Cathy will go beyond familiarizing you with the best, newly published titles to share strategies for using these outstanding books in your classroom or library program. This daylong seminar will be filled with the best, new books, innovative and creative ideas, exciting curriculum connections, and news about authors that are all too good for young adults to miss. You will also receive a comprehensive YA literature digital resource handbook complete with detailed annotated bibliographies and packed with outstanding ideas that you can immediately use to motivate and inspire your young adult readers.

A Message From Seminar Leader, Cathy Andronik

Uniquely Qualified Instructor

CATHY ANDRONIK is well known for her presentations on outstanding books for young adults. As an experienced secondary school librarian, one of her greatest joys has been the opportunity to share her passion for YA literature with teens, to hook them on reading and keep them coming back for more. Cathy has presented at numerous conferences including the Young Adult Library Services Association (YALSA) Symposium and multiple state library conferences. Besides being an avid reader and book reviewer, she has also served on a variety of national book and media awards committees, including the Odyssey Award, Best Nonfiction for Young Adults, and the Schneider Family Book Award. Cathy is also the author of What's New in Young Adult Literature and How to Use It in Your Program, the extensive digital resource handbook you will receive at the seminar. Join Cathy for a day filled with the best, new young adult literature and easy-to-implement, practical ways to use these books in your grades 6-12 classroom or library program.

Dear Colleague:

Throughout my many years as a school librarian, my favorite part of the job has been connecting the right book to the right reader and then watching my students' love of reading grow. I love helping teens discover their own passion for reading and helping them realize that reading is "cool." In my experience, providing lots of great choices and opportunities to read, and engaging students in their choices are important aspects of developing passionate readers.

I know firsthand what a challenge it is for busy teachers and librarians to stay abreast of the best of what's new. There are literally thousands of new, young adult books released each year! I can help, though. I've been reading extensively and am excited to share with you the best, new YA books and great ways you can use them in your classroom or library program.

In our day together, I will help you hone in on the best, newly published titles that have the power to inspire and captivate the teens you work with – to start them reading and keep them reading. I will share titles you can use to teach empathy, history, community, science, and more! I will share books that are exciting, funny, scary, thought-provoking, adventuresome, and romantic.

I'll include lots of ideas for ways to incorporate the newest young adult books into your curriculum, whether it's for an entire unit or a five-minute activity. From graphic novels to entice reluctant readers, to audiobooks to include teens with different learning styles, to titles to challenge your advanced readers, I will introduce you to something new for every teen who relies on your informed choices for his or her next great read.

Be prepared to spend a day doing what book lovers love to do – learning about books, talking about books, reviewing books, and sharing ideas related to books. If you are looking for high-quality books and ideas with lots of teen appeal, this day is for you! I will go above and beyond the book talks themselves to show you how these books can enhance your classroom or library program.

I look forward to spending the day with you!

Sincerely,

Cathy Andronik

P.S. Are you a tire-kicker when you car shop? You will love the chance to take a close look and personally preview many of books we're discussing!

"In our day together, I will help you hone in on the best, newly published titles that have the power to inspire and captivate the teens you work with - to start them reading and keep them reading."
