Day One

Keynote • 9:00 – 9:30 AM

“The Art and Science of Learning in First and Second Grades”

– Kelly Harmon

How are you combining the art and science of learning to help your first and second grade students successfully develop their social and academic skills? Let's kick off a great two days together as we explore how to create the kind of authentic and meaningful learning opportunities that will help your young students better thrive in the classroom! You will learn the five keys to using the scientific research, while being artful in the design and delivery of instruction for first and second graders. This truly insightful keynote delivered by Kelly Harmon will leave you inspired and ready for two days of learning designed just for YOU.

MORNING SESSIONS • 9:40 AM – 12:10 PM

Choose ONE Full Morning Session OR TWO 70-Minute Sessions
One mid-morning break

Full Morning Session • 9:40 AM – 12:10 PM

A-1: Re-Thinking Small Group Reading Instruction in Grades One and Two

– Annemarie Johnson

Join Annemarie and look at new ways to be sure your small group reading instruction is having the greatest impact on student growth with your first and second graders. This session will give you new ways to differentiate, new ideas for flexible grouping, and a menu of small group options that focus on specific skills students need. Leverage your small group instruction time by targeting exactly what students need to move their reading to the next level.

First 70-Minute Morning Sessions 9:40 – 10:50 AM

CHOOSE ONE: A-2 or A-3

A-2: Writing to Learn: Using Writing to Help First and Second Grades Build World Knowledge – Kelly Harmon

Writing utilizes literacy skills that can and should be used to help students build knowledge in all content areas. Discover strategies and activities that help students process science and social studies content and vocabulary, while practicing important writing skills. Kelly will show you how to incorporate writing instruction and skills more easily in your first and second grade classroom. You won't want to miss this practical and immediately useful session to help students write across the curriculum.

A-3: Using Morning Meetings to Build a Community of Learners While Meeting Grades 1 and 2 Academic Standards – Deb Wirth

Learn how to effectively use the four components of morning meetings to create a caring, respectful community of learners. Discover how building this environment can enhance academic learning and meet mandated state standards yet foster a wide range of skills, attitudes, and behaviors that can positively affect your first and second grade students' success in school and life.

Second 70-Minute Morning Sessions 11:00 AM – 12:10 PM

CHOOSE ONE: A-4 or A-5

A-4: Using Children's Literature to Engage Students in Problem Solving Activities – Kelly Harmon

Children's books provide a perfect starting point for engaging first and second grade students in authentic problem solving. In this session, explore literature matched to math standards and great ways you can use manipulatives and drawing strategies during Guided Math to help your young students think more deeply through complex math problems.

A-5: Stop Spending Valuable Money and Time on First and Second Grade Center Construction ... There's a Better Way! – Deb Wirth

Are you interested in using centers in your math classroom, but feel burnt out from the creation of multi-leveled activities? Learn how to create effective tiered centers reaching first and second grade students of all ability levels. Discover the power of incorporating 'variations on a theme' to get more use out of center activities rather than utilizing the 'one and done' method.

One mid-afternoon break

Full Afternoon Session • 1:10 – 3:40 PM

B-1: Improving Math Intervention Techniques for ALL Your First and Second Grade Students – Deb Wirth

Join Deb in exploring effective instructional strategies and delivery techniques designed to boost mathematical achievement and growth for all your first and second grade students. Learn ways to improve the use of visuals, explicit language, and vocabulary during instruction ideal for this grade level. Determine best practices to help students develop problem solving strategies and mathematical fluency. Discover intervention tools that can be readily utilized!

First 70-Minute Afternoon Sessions 1:10 – 2:20 PM

CHOOSE ONE: B-2 or B-3

B-2: Let's Get Real in Informational Text! Strategies to Engage and Support Struggling Readers in Grades One and Two – Kelly Harmon

Information text reading, the majority of reading we do as adults, is the type of reading students struggle with the most. Learning to read requires first and second grade readers to intentionally select skills and strategies to think within, beyond, and about factual texts. Join Kelly to explore ways to overcome gaps in background knowledge, as well as specific comprehension strategies that will help your first and second graders better process informational texts.

B-3: Phonological Awareness: The Foundation for All Readers and a Missing Link for Most Readers with Dyslexia – Annemarie Johnson

In this session we will explore what phonological awareness is, why it is important for all readers and critical for children who may have dyslexia, and which phonological awareness skills matter most. You will leave with a menu of engaging instructional methods and routines that can be woven into your first and second grade school day, regardless of the reading program you use.

Second 70-Minute Afternoon Sessions 2:30 – 3:40 PM

CHOOSE ONE: B-4 or B-5

B-4: From Phonics to Fluency in First and Second Grade – Kelly Harmon

We know that phonics and fluency go hand in hand because they are both essential components of a proficient reader. This session will explore ideas for extending your first and second grade students' phonemic awareness, phonics, and reading fluency. Explore engaging activities that will get your students hearing sounds, using letter and syllable patterns to read and spell words, and ultimately reading fluently and more successfully!

B-5: Brain-Friendly Ways to Teach Sight Words in First and Second Grade – Annemarie Johnson

Learn what brain research says about learning sight words. Annemarie will share reasons why many of our first and second grade students struggle to learn sight words and what teachers can do about it. Walk away with practical tips for helping all your students gain mastery of sight words and common pitfalls to avoid in the process.
