Practical Ideas and Strategies

This outstanding seminar will focus on linking the proven method of Guided Reading with differentiated instruction to increase the level of support you are providing to your young readers in grades K-2. Master teacher JUDY LYNCH will provide you with research-based strategies, methods and activities to help you better meet the wide range of needs in your small reading groups. These ready-to-use ideas will give you a fresh resolve to help all your students reach higher levels of success in their reading.

You will gain insights as you see and hear demonstrations that model the powerful methods presented in this vitally important seminar. You will view many classroom video segments that illustrate the process of incorporating differentiated instruction within your Guided Reading groups.

Throughout this exciting day, Judy will share classroom-proven ideas for teaching the most effective comprehension strategies including valuable vocabulary techniques, interactive phonics appropriate to each grade level, and building fluency.

You'll leave this seminar with a wealth of highly practical ideas, strategies and activities to fully incorporate differentiated instruction into your Guided Reading groups. In addition, you will receive an extensive Guided Reading digital resource handbook that will help you implement these strategies immediately.

A Message From Seminar Leader, Judy Lynch

Uniquely Qualified Instructor

JUDY LYNCH is a highly experienced K-2 classroom teacher, author, Reading Recovery teacher, literacy coach, and a national reading expert. Using her Master's Degree, Reading Specialist Credential and Reading Recovery Training, Judy has taught in schools with large populations of children with ethnic and language diversities. She also has experience teaching gifted students and in high achieving schools. Her passion is helping all children become successful readers. She is the author of five popular professional books from Scholastic: Easy Lessons for Teaching Word Families (1998); Word-Learning, Word-Making, Word-Sorting, 52 Lessons for Success (2002); Making Word Walls Work (2005); First Grade in Photographs (2009); and First Grade Writer's Workshop (2012). In addition, she is the author of Guided Reading: DIFFERENTIATING Using Small Group Instruction (Grades K-2), the extensive digital resource handbook you will receive at the seminar. Judy is a dynamic speaker, known for her high energy and infectious enthusiasm. She speaks at state and national reading conferences and consults with schools across the country. Her ideas are exciting and innovative, yet highly practical. She not only demonstrates key strategies, but also shows videos of real classrooms to help you more effectively visualize key strategies with your own diverse students.

Dear Colleague:

My greatest frustration has been watching my students struggle with reading day after day, while my greatest joy has come from 20 years of turning that around with the diverse students that I teach. I think it's time to move beyond all the problems we face in the classroom and spend a day focusing on practical solutions. We can help all our students find success in reading with research-based strategies that differentiate lessons for the wide range of students in our Guided Reading small groups. Guided Reading helps our struggling readers, as well as challenges the best.

In my seminar, I will share proven ideas that make the best use of your precious time and resources. Everything I share is practical and easy to implement because I model how to use the techniques, give you materials that are ready to use and show video examples from real K-2 classrooms. This seminar is designed to provide you with practical strategies and activities that are both classroom based and research driven. Who has time for any lessons that aren't best practice? I want you to have the opportunity to pick and choose the strategies and methods that will work best with YOUR students in YOUR school.

Please join me for an exciting day that will reaffirm the powerful teaching you already do in your Guided Reading small groups and will add the essential differentiated instruction strategies and lessons that will help ensure all your students become successful readers. At the end of the seminar you will have dozens of useful and adaptable differentiation techniques to help meet the needs of all the students in your Guided Reading small groups.

Sincerely,

Judy Lynch

P.S. You will also receive an extensive digital resource handbook filled with over 100 pages of ideas and strategies for linking differentiated instruction and Guided Reading that you can implement immediately.

"Everything I share is practical and easy to implement because I model how to use the techniques, give you materials that are ready to use and show video examples from real K-2 classrooms."
