Practical Ideas and Strategies

Using co-teaching to reach our diverse student population, including students with disabilities and other special needs, can be a powerful and highly effective way to help students access the general education curriculum and make progress toward reaching the increasingly high academic standards. However, as we co-teach to both general education and special needs students, we want to be sure to include in our lessons the specially designed instruction students with disabilities are required to receive. In this introductory, strategy-packed seminar on Co-teaching led by Savanna Flakes, you will discover practical ways to engage students with specially designed instruction to help every student meet and exceed rigorous curriculum. You will learn the most effective, cutting-edge, research-based co-teaching practices to increase student achievement. If you are searching for practical ways to maximize the instructional knowledge of the general educator and learning specialist, this unique one-day seminar will provide best practices for successful co-teaching and specially designed instructional strategies to increase student achievement. By the end of the day, you will leave with dozens of highly practical, effective strategies and an extensive digital resource handbook to help you reach your goal of reaching and teaching every student.

A Message From Seminar Leader, Savanna Flakes

Uniquely Qualified Instructor

Savanna Flakes is an engaging and enthusiastic international presenter who believes teachers can successfully work together in co-teaching teams to reach and teach every child. She is an award-winning teacher, leader, author, and educational consultant shaking up special education. She is a National Board Certified Teacher, a National Education Technology Standards Certified Teacher and the author of Shaking Up Special Education. She is also the author of Practical Strategies to Incorporate Specially Designed Instruction into Your Co-Teaching, the digital resource handbook you will receive at her seminar. Savanna currently serves as an international education consultant, coaching teachers, modeling effective instructional pedagogy for teachers, and providing professional development on inclusion, co-teaching, differentiation, classroom management, and universal design for learning. Savanna is known for her passion and dedication to reaching diverse learners. Her seminars are exciting, hands-on and collaborative.

You will leave this seminar reinvigorated and inspired to use the dozens of innovative strategies to reach all learners in your co-taught classrooms.

Dear Colleague:

The essential ingredient to success in a co-taught classroom is you! Having a repertoire of highly effective instructional strategies to match the specially designed instruction students need will make your job as a co-teacher much easier! As a co-teacher and inclusion specialist, I have witnessed the success stories of victorious co-teaching teams and students who thrive with engaging and targeted instruction. I am extremely excited to share with you many proven and research-based co-teaching practices that embed specially designed instructional strategies to accelerate student achievement!

During this introductory seminar on incorporating specially designed instruction into your co-teaching, my goal is to provide you with a rewarding professional learning experience that will help you seamlessly integrate high-yield co-teaching practices and specially designed instructional strategies and technology into your curriculum and instruction. By providing you with a wealth of engaging, evidence-based co-teaching and instructional practices, you will leave ready to have a positive impact on student achievement. Motivating reluctant learners, effective co-teaching practices, specially designed instruction, differentiated instruction and grouping, dynamic assessment, cooperative learning, and using technology effectively, are just some of the topics we will explore. You will learn hands-on strategies to increase teacher expertise and build your instructional toolkit to improve student achievement.

I extend to you a warm, personal invitation to join me in the continual learning and sharing work of ensuring student success. I pledge that you will leave this seminar with dozens of effective co-teaching practices and instructional strategies for accelerating student achievement and decreasing the achievement gap of students with special needs.

Sincerely,

Savanna Flakes

P.S. You will also receive an extensive digital resource handbook filled with dozens of specific instructional strategies to increase the success of your co-taught classroom. My goal is to provide you with practical strategies you can use immediately to increase student achievement in your classroom.

"You will learn hands-on strategies to increase teacher expertise and build your instructional toolkit to improve student achievement."
