A Message From Seminar Leader, Sandra Moritz

Uniquely Qualified Instructor

Sandra Moritz is an outstanding, nationally-certified and experienced school nurse and school nurse coordinator who brings extensive experience in addressing challenging school health issues. Recognized as a nationally certified school nurse, and as the Pennsylvania 2010 School Nurse of the Year, she is a frequent presenter at national (NASN) and state conferences and workshops. Sandra is a current board member of Allergy and Asthma Network. Sandra is the author of Practical Strategies to Address the Challenges of Today's SCHOOL NURSE, the extensive school nursing practice digital resource handbook each participant will receive at the seminar. She is also the author of a variety of articles in journals regarding the best practices of school nurses. A passionate advocate of the importance of teaching students to be as healthy as possible, she is recognized as a pioneer in developing standing orders and protocols for school nursing and seeking out additional resources to support her school nursing teams.

You'll leave Sandra's seminar with a renewed sense of energy and enthusiasm for school nursing and equipped with numerous practical ideas and insights to enhance the effectiveness of your own nursing practice.

Dear Colleague:

As school nurses, we are challenged daily in our school health offices with students and staff who have serious health concerns. As a school nurse with extensive experience in school nursing, I have had many opportunities to address a variety of school health issues. I have created this seminar to help you more effectively address these challenges and gain a new vitality as well as provide practical information for a progressive school nursing practice! School nursing is always in transition. To stay current in our role, standards of care and programs must reflect the latest information and requirements present in our jobs. I have picked topic areas that I believe are relevant, interesting and common challenges for school nurses. My love of teaching health has moved me to create fun and innovative programs that help motivate healthy behavior among students and staff.

Enjoy a day with other school nurses, learn new strategies to handle the challenges of our career and take some time to share practical ways to positively address our common issues. I look forward to sharing my expertise with you and learning of your experiences in our very unique practice of school nursing. Together we will examine the standards for a consistent and safe practice. We can only meet the needs of our students and staff if we are taking the best care of ourselves. Wellness tips to avoid common burnout of health professionals will also be presented.

Sincerely,

Sandra Moritz, M.Ed., BS, RN, NCSN

P.S. You will receive an extensive school nursing digital resource handbook containing the above information and more!

"I look forward to sharing my expertise with you and to learn of your experiences in our very unique practice of school nursing!"
