Practical Ideas and Strategies

In this seminar, outstanding presenter and experienced speech-language pathologist TERESA FARNHAM will equip you with practical assessment and treatment tools, strategies and ideas to help you facilitate rapid change in the phonological systems of the preschool and school age children with whom you work. Teresa will help you develop new strategies with the goal of improving the efficiency and effectiveness of your phonologic therapy. You will learn how to select phonemic targets based on students’ actual phonological knowledge, as well as how to use maximal oppositions in pairs in treatment, yielding improved generalization across the child’s entire phonologic system in a relatively short time. Teresa is the author of Speech Language Therapy: Promoting Rapid Change for Children with Severe Phonological Disorders (Grades PreK-6), the extensive digital resource handbook you will receive at the seminar. You will leave with a toolbox filled with practical strategies you can implement the very next day to more effectively assess, intervene and facilitate rapid phonological growth in children with various severe speech sound disorders.
Dear Colleague:

Children with severe speech sound disorders pose an ongoing challenge for school-based speech-language pathologists. In my school practice, I have consistently found that children who were still working on those “last few sounds” in the upper elementary grades were particularly difficult to motivate, so my personal goal became remediating each child’s speech sound errors by the end of the third grade. But, how? Could it even be done?

As I researched how to move children as quickly as possible to having intelligible speech, I learned that there is a better way than the traditional sound-by-sound method I had been taught. This new approach resulted in a practical therapy process that consistently moved children from not being understood by anyone in the classroom to having few or no speech sound errors, often in less than one school year. Parents would call me excitedly to report that grandma could understand the child over the phone for the first time. Now, that’s satisfying!

This approach transformed my caseload: the most difficult cases were managed quickly, thoroughly and without the monotony (for both the child and speech pathologist) of multiple years of treatment of the same sounds, leaving more time in my schedule for children with severe language impairments. Imagine having a student who is unintelligible at the beginning of kindergarten, yet finishes the year as a leader in his class! I've seen it happen!

Let me share what I have learned with you so that you can also experience the rewards of this kind of rapid progress. Moving children off the caseload because they have mastered our sound system is the best kind of caseload reduction there is! You will leave this seminar with a working knowledge of how to effectively assess children’s phonological knowledge, how to use the assessment information you gather to develop a comprehensive individualized therapy plan, and which critical elements need to be included in each therapy session. Plus, you will receive an extensive digital resource handbook that I have filled with materials, guides, and strategies you can use right away for your most difficult cases.

Sincerely,

Teresa Farnham, MA, CCC-SLP

P.S. As someone who is “in the trenches” with you, I will share practical, proven methods I have used to rapidly and successfully improve children’s phonology through videos of actual therapy sessions.
